

Blanche d'Alpuget

Bertha Lawson

Stephanie Claire

A divorce could cost Labour
3% at the polls

Bob Hawke
Civics and Citizenship

BLANCHE d'ALPUGET became active in the women's movement. She has won a number of literary awards for both fiction and non-fiction including, in the inaugural Australasian Prize for Commonwealth Literature. She first met Bob Hawke in Jakarta, in 1970. They met again in 1976 when she interviewed him for a biography she was writing on Sir Richard Kirby. This meeting led to a long and sporadic love affair which eventually culminated in their marriage in 1995. Blanche and Bob live in Northbridge together.

Divorce could cost Labour three percent.
Bob Hawke

BERTHA LAWSON first met poet Henry Lawson at a young age. They lived together in Northbridge for over 30 years. She wrote two books about life with Henry.

Henry came every day to see me and at the end of the week begged me to marry him.

Memories

Caricature of Henry
La Trobe Journal

Psalm 52 - Sunday Afternoon
Brandis

STEPHANIE CLAIRE lived in the Crows Nest/Naremburn area and wrote a biography about Salvatore Zofrea a renowned artist and painter. The Introduction to the book is written by highly regarded poet, Geoffrey Lehmann.

we used to go to concerts together and long walks at Neutral Bay
Salvatore Zofrea